

Shari Murphy to Lead the IAJHSC at the Advisors' Leadership Workshop

“Unmask the Super Leader in You!”

Shari Murphy is an Educational Consultant and Senior Facilitator for Quantum Learning Education who is passionate about empowering people to discover and unleash their potential. Shari started sharing this passion with 4th and 5th graders in Illinois as a classroom teacher for over a decade. She planned to leave the classroom after her first year of teaching due to feeling ineffective. She was inspired to learn how crucial it is to be the best version of herself as an adult and educator to influence our youth. She attributes her decision to stay and thrive in the classroom to the methodology of Quantum Learning. Shari is fueled by the educators and students she works with and strives to create that same shift in them. Her vulnerability and ability to “keep it real“ has earned her accolades with hundreds of education audiences across the U.S. Shari has influenced educators across the country as a keynote speaker and facilitator of professional development programs for teachers, administrators, and parents. She has presented at many state and national education conferences including the National Students At-Risk conference, the National Staff Development Council conference, the Tennessee Principals Association annual conference, and the NCCEP/GEAR UP Capacity- Building Workshop.

Shari has a B.S. in Elementary Education from Eastern Illinois University and a Masters Degree in Educational Administration from Governors State University. Shari resides in Darien, Illinois where she and her husband thrive on being an active part in the lives of their 3 children.
